Starring

Jane M. Healy, Ph.D. and George Duvall

"Developing Creative Minds in the 21st Century"

"Success is a Journey"

Jane Healy is a teacher and educational psychologist who has worked with students of all ages from pre-school to graduate school. Her major research interest has been in finding practical applications of current brain research for teachers and parents. A graduate of Smith College, she holds an M.A. from John Carroll University, a Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve University, and has done post-doctoral work in developmental neuropsychology. She has served on the faculty of Cleveland State University.

Her many years of experience include: parent, classroom teacher, reading/learning specialist, elementary administrator, and clinician. She is recognized internationally as an author, lecturer, and consultant. She has received international media coverage, including Nightline, Good Morning America, the Today Show, CNN and NPR, for her ideas about the impact of technology, media and culture on children's brain development.

Jane's award-winning books include: Your Child's Growing Mind: A Guide to Learning and Brain Development from Birth to Adolescence; Endangered Minds: Why Children Don't Think and What We Can Do About It; and Failure to Connect: How Computers Affect Our Children's Minds—and What We Can Do About It.

Although Jane has received many honors, including being twice named the "Educator of the Year" by Delta Kappa Gamma, she claims that she and her husband have learned most of what they know from the process of raising three sons and enjoying six grandchildren!

George Duvall is a motivational speaker, trainer and comedian sharing his message of success with colleges and organizations across America. George graduated from Eastern Kentucky University with a degree in Public Relations. He spent 15 years of his life in foster care and in boys' facilities. Now he speaks to audiences about the importance of fun, family, unity and higher education.

George has spoken at over 100 different events over the last nine years. His first speaking engagement was for the Kentucky State Foster Parent dinner in 1996. Recently, George was the keynote speaker at the Family Support America's 10th Biennial National Conference in Chicago, IL. George shared his message of resiliency, youth empowerment and unity with more than 2400 attendees from America, Canada and England.

As a trainer, George contracted with the University of North Carolina's Jordan Institute for Families federally funded "Interdependent Living" pilot curriculum in Alabama, Florida and Georgia. He has also trained, performed comedy and delivered motivational speeches on behalf of the National Resource Center for Youth Services/University of Oklahoma during their teen conferences in San Diego and Santa Cruz, CA, and The University of Oklahoma, Stillwater, OK.

2005 APEN Awards

The APEN Awards program has been expanded! In addition to nominating an individual parent educator for this prestigious award, you may now also nominate an advocate or organization. To request a nomination packet, call 501-664-2227 or email your request to tammygray@arkansas.net. The information is also available at www.arctf.org/apenconference.html.

"APEN Goes Hollywood" Networking Social

Join us for a "Movie Lover's Special" following Concurrent Workshop Session C. We'll stroll down the APEN Walk of Fame, watch for photo ops with the "stars", and play movie trivia for fun and prizes. It's also a great opportunity for the "star struck" and others alike to catch up with colleagues, make new connections, and learn more about our exhibitors and the organizations working to make a difference in Arkansas.

Book Store

The bookstore will be open during conference hours on April 5-6, 2005. Books and other materials related to parenting education will be available for purchase. The bookstore accepts cash, checks and credit cards.

So You Want to be a Star?

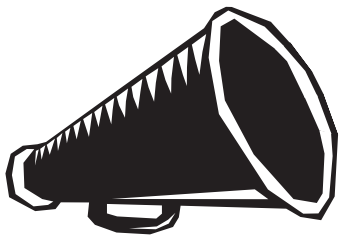

As part of our program this year, we will be showing "film clips" throughout the conference. If you would like your organization and its participants to be part of the show we are creating, please send photos. We can accept most electronic formats or original photos. If you send original photos, please be sure to write your name and address on the back of each one. Be sure to include a SASE if you would like your photos returned to you. Submissions can be sent via email to tammygray@arkansas.net or via snail mail to APEN, 415 North McKinley, Little Rock, AR 72205.

Extras Needed!

Each conference seminar or workshop session is monitored by a volunteer facilitator. If you would be willing to serve in this capacity, please indicate by circling your preference when you complete your conference registration form. It's an amateur role, but a great way to help out. And, your name will be listed in the credits!

Props Wanted!

Please consider donating a door prize to be given away during the conference. The more we can give away, the more fun we have! For more information about donating a door prize, call Pam Kahler at 501-364-7580.

Pre-Conference Institute

Monday, April 4, 2005

9:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

PC1 – Is Your School a Ready School?

Focus on Transitioning Activities

A well-defined transition plan is a characteristic of Ready Schools. In the past, schools have concentrated on “preparing the child” for school. Now, schools must “prepare the school” for the students. Participants will review the state’s “Ready School” indicators as well as the pilot schools’ reactions to the review. Find out if your school is a “Ready School”.

Presented by: Dee Cox, BSE, MSE, M.Ed., Program Manager, Grants Initiative/Early Childhood, Arkansas Department of Education

1:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

PC2 – A Path from Poverty to Prosperity:

Family Financial Literacy Training

The speaker will share lessons she learned as a child from her father, a first generation, self-made millionaire, to show how parents can create financially responsible and literate children by what they say and how they act. Discussion will include 1) Two things money cannot do; 2) Two motivations to save; 3) Three ways to control spending; 4) Four principles of smarter spending; 5) Eleven methods to increase income; and 6) Twelve laws of investing.

Presented by: Suzanne Short, Mortgage Consultant, The Funding Source

PC3 – Act 603: An Overview

Participants will receive a basic overview of Act 603 of 2003 and the latest update of the state’s activities supporting parental involvement. Successful ideas from research and experience will be shared, as well as current creative and unique techniques to enhance parental involvement.

Presented by: Dee Cox, BSE, MSE, M.Ed., Program Manager, Grants Initiative/Early Childhood, Arkansas Department of Education

PC4 – Building Partnerships Through Study Circles

The Arkansas Study Circles Project works to broaden public engagement through deliberative dialogue to find common ground, build trust, and develop better solutions for all of Arkansas communities in the area of education. Study Circles include groups of 8-12 people who meet regularly over a period of time, usually four two-hour sessions, to address a critical public issue in a democratic and collaborative way. Each study circle has a trained, impartial facilitator who serves the group by providing questions to initiate the conversation, keeping the conversation flowing and on track, and mediating when conflict arises. The purpose of the sessions is to foster understanding. The belief is that with understanding, productive action can take place.

Presented by: Heather Detherow, Director, Diane Vibhakar, State Coordinator, and Connie Whitfield, State Coordinator, Arkansas Study Circles Project

PC5 – Going to School (Limited to 25 Participants)

The presentation will utilize a video series developed from the research-based work of Doctors Craig and Sharon Ramey. Each video episode highlights a topic of interest that helps prepare a child for successful entry into school. The overarching objectives of the workshop are increasing cognitive development; improving school readiness; and increasing classroom achievement of young children. Participants will receive the Going to School video episodes and accompanying guides and will be certified to conduct Going to School parent education workshops.

Presented by: Helen Ann Hale, Ready to Learn Coordinator and Pam Scarber, Education Services Coordinator, Arkansas Educational Television Network

PC6 – Grant Writing 101 (Limited to 25 Participants)

This interactive seminar will teach participants the basics of grant writing, including budgets, goals, statements of need, project descriptions and more. In addition to getting the big grant writing picture, participants will receive lots of little tips and resources to help them along the way.

Presented by: Gina Parker, Consultant, Trainer and Facilitator, VP Enterprises and Consulting

PC7 – Parenting the Strong-Willed Child: Curriculum Training

This workshop will provide an overview of a 6-week parenting class curriculum based on the book Parenting the Strong-Willed Child – Revised Edition (by Rex Forehand & Nicholas Long). The approach used in the program is based on extensive research and clinical experiences over the past 30 years. Numerous research studies have found the skills presented in the curriculum to be very effective when working with families individually. The curriculum takes these skills and presents them within a parenting class format (six 2-hour classes). The program is designed for parents of children 2-6 years old who are strong-willed and don’t mind very well. Participants will learn about the various strategies taught within the program and will be provided a copy of the curriculum.

Presented by: Nick Long, Ph.D., Director, Center for Effective Parenting

PC 8 – Preschool Music Methods and Materials

Participants in this workshop will learn to utilize developmentally appropriate music materials in their daily routines. Music of all styles will be introduced and modeled by the instructor to help train teachers in presentation techniques. Special emphasis is given to music that teaches various educational concepts and helps develop movement and coordination. There will also be sections dealing with multi-cultural music and using music with special needs children.

Presented by: Brian K. Faulkner, M.Ed., President, Makin' Music, Inc.

PC 9 – Smart Choices, Better Chances

Smart Choices, Better Chances is an interesting and informative youth education and prevention program. It is also flexible, in that it can be utilized by 4-12th educators in a variety of formats. Participants will receive a complete program manual, plus an activity book for children, a student activity book for middle/junior high students, and a juvenile law handbook for adolescents. There is also an accompanying video with six vignettes. These include: Justice System, Youth Violence, Weapons, Gangs, Victimization, and Prisons. Numerous activities and games will be taught, as well as ways of incorporating the program into parental involvement/training programs.

Presented by: E. Dee Austin, Ed.S., LPC, Parent Educator/Specialist, Center for Effective Parenting – Northwest Arkansas and Dwayne Yarbrough, Senior Law Education Instructor, Office of the Attorney General
